Max Decorative Laminates (HPL)

Max HPL panels are duromer high-pressure laminates in accordance with EN 438-3, type HGS and are ideal for decorative and high-traffic areas of application (e.g. furniture, interior design, etc.). They are perfect for such applications as they are highly resistant to abrasions, impacts, scratches and heat.

Max Compact Interior

These are duromer high-pressure laminate panels (HPL) in accordance with EN 438-4, type CGS. The applications are as diverse as the product designs. The durable panels are used, for example, in sanitary and wet rooms, as wall cladding, and in furniture construction. Wherever durability and quality are required.

Premium Star (Star Favorit)*

Looks good from all sides: The panel with UV lacquer coating and decor on both sides livens up every interior. The material makes a name for itself not only with its product quality, stylish colors and surfaces, but also for the design possibilities it offers. The success speaks for itself: Professional users have already used it to create millions of pieces of furniture, kitchen fronts, partitions and more.

Alucompact Interior

These are Max Compact Interior panels with aluminum bands symmetrically inserted in the core. Together with deep, matte black, the aluminum line running along the visible edge becomes a minimalist design element with maximum effect. Alucompact creates clear, linear creations as well as optical boundaries with the help of the dark colors.
